St. Joseph's corner

"Make the best use of what is in your power, and take the rest as it happens" (Epictetus).

Have you ever stayed up late into the night, redoing a task that no one asked you to touch — not because it was broken, but because it wasn't perfect by your standards? Maybe it was already functional, acceptable, even praised by others, but you couldn't let it stand. It wasn't your mistake to fix, nor your responsibility—yet pride whispered, I can make it better. And so you press on, while your family waits for you at home.

Epictetus' wisdom is simple: focus on what is in your hands and leave the rest. But pride blurs the lines, pulling us into matters outside our lane—trying to control timing, outcome, or finish in ways God has not asked of us. What we see as flawed may, in fact, be God's providence at work—perfectly imperfect for His purposes. And while Epictetus spoke of contentment as a Stoic virtue, Scripture calls us to something even deeper—perseverance in the specific race God has marked out for us.

The author of Hebrews recognized this tendency and addressed it directly: "Lay aside every weight...and let us run with perseverance the race that is set before us" (Hebrews 12:1)—not the race set before someone else. And while St. Paul encourages us to "aspire to holy things," we must take care to examine the motives that fuel our ambitions. Ambition itself is not the enemy; when aimed at God's glory, it drives us to serve, build, and protect. But when pride takes the driver's seat, even our best intentions can drift out of the lane God has laid before us.

And at this juncture, Jesus's words cut through any illusion we might create for ourselves.

"I have come to set the earth on fire, and how I wish it were already blazing!" (Luke 12:49).

This is not a fire that destroys for its own sake, but one that purifies and refines, burning away what cannot endure in God's kingdom.

His fire is not of worldly achievement, self-satisfied success, or righteousness steeped in vanity. His is a fire that purifies, burning away what is merely human striving, and leaves only what is of God. This is a common refrain from our Lord: He will bring not only peace but division (Luke 12:51—dividing those who follow Him from those who reject Him); He will separate the wheat from the chaff (Matthew 3:12; cf. Luke 3:17—preserving what is fruitful and burning what is worthless); He will prune the branches that do not bear fruit (John 15:2—removing what does not remain in Him so the rest may flourish); He will separate the sheep from the goats (Matthew 25:32—distinguishing the righteous from the wicked at the final judgment). In all these teachings, Jesus speaks to the primacy of the Father's will, and that when our ambitions collide with His will, something must give. In His mercy, it is often our pride that must be consumed first.

The Path Forward

The fire is not to be feared. The wise man steps into it willingly, bringing his ambitions, concerns, and desires openly before Christ. At the foot of the cross—where pride is defeated and surrender prevails—we lay them down, asking Him to consume all that is rooted in pride, fear, or self-will, until only our true identity in Him remains: beloved sons of the Father, called and equipped for His purpose. From that place of surrender, His will becomes clear, and our hearts are free to embrace the mission and vocation He has placed before us.

St. Joseph lived this surrender. He did not cling to his own plans when God redirected his path; he accepted the disruption, the uncertainty, and the cost, trusting that God's providence was perfect. For husbands and fathers, this is the model: to welcome the refining fire of Christ, so that our leadership, our work, and our ambitions are purified of self-interest and aligned with the Father's will.

Every day, bring your ambitions, concerns, and desires to Christ in prayer. Ask Him not why—for that tempts us to manage—but what He would have you do with these movements in your heart. Then wait, and let His purifying fire refine you like silver, until only what comes from God remains

—Sebastian Abbinanti (Parish Pastoral Council Member)

QUEENSHIP OF MARY

August 22nd

Pope Pius XII established this feast in 1954. After having declared the dogma of the Assumption, that "the Immaculate Mother of God was assumed body and soul into heavenly glory," he then established the feast of her Queenship.

Eventually, the date for this feast was set for the octave (8th day) after the Solemnity of the Assumption, that is, August 22nd each year.

Just as Christ is the King of the universe, so too is His Mother the Queen. The Church teaches that Mary was assumed body and soul into heaven at the end of her earthly life, and there she was crowned by her Son.

PRAYER IN HONOR OF THE QUEENSHIP OF MARY:

O Mary Immaculate Queen, look down upon this distressed, suffering world. You know our misery and our weakness.

O thou who art our Mother, saving us in the hour of peril, have compassion on us in these days of great and heavy trial. Jesus has confided to you the treasure of His grace, and through you He wills to grant us pardon and mercy.

In these hours of anguish, therefore, your children come to you as their hope. We recognize your Queenship and ardently desire your triumph.

We need a Mother and a Mother's Heart. You are for us the luminous dawn which dissipates our darkness and points out the way to life. In your clemency obtain for us the courage and the confidence of which we have such need.

Most Holy and Adorable Trinity, You Who did crown with glory in Heaven the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the Savior, grant that all her children on earth may acknowledge her as their Sovereign Queen, that all hearts, homes, and nations may recognize her rights as Mother and as Queen.

Mary Immaculate Queen, triumph and reign! Amen.
