This is a time to acknowledge our responsibility to provide for the needs of the poor. Enhancing your individual participation in your Parish programs to assist those in need during this month and more importantly throughout the entire year would be a suitable means of responding to Jesus' call for us to live a life reflective of the Beatitudes.

COAT DRIVE

For the month of November, we will be collecting new and gently used coats. The donations bins will be in the Narthex.

These donations will benefit Big Brothers
Big Sisters of Joliet.

Becoming Missionary Disciples

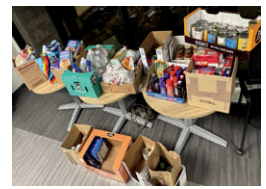

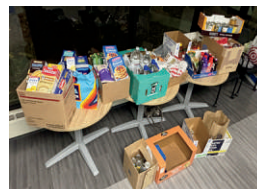

The Gospel for All Saint's Day is from St. Matthew's Gospel on The Beatitudes. Here are the Beatitudes for Families, (from Loyola Press).

We can incorporate the "Beatitude Attitude" into our own families, both at home and in our parish family. Let's all live the "Beatitude Attitude."

- Blessed are the families in which mercy is abundant and forgiveness is given freely so that God's mercy will be readily available to all.
- Blessed are families who ground their lives in God and rise above the lures of temptation, for God will shine his face upon them.
- Blessed are the families who create peace at home, at school, at work, in the community, and in the world, for they will be God's very own.
- Blessed are the families who strengthen one another, encourage compassion, and the desire to do good despite life's blows and setbacks, for they will help bring about the Kingdom of God.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR FOOD DONATION

Our R.E. students put our faith into action earlier this month to feed the hungry through our annual R.E. Food Drive. Each child bringing in a can or two of food, or a box or two of pasta or rice adds up, as you can see. Thank you!!

We thank God for our veterans past and present.
Let us continue to pray for those listed here and all of our parish veterans.

CATHOLIC CAMPAIGN FOR HUMAN DEVELOPMENT WORKING ON THE MARGINS

November 2025

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Our diocese will soon take up the national collection for the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD). Your support for this collection November 15/16 brings change to communities across the country and empowers those living in poverty to transform their communities into reflections of the Kingdom of God. For more than 50 years, CCHD has helped low-income people address the root causes of poverty and injustice, not by giving “one-size-fits-all” handouts, but by funding local organizations that empower low-income people to make positive impacts in their own communities. This grassroots model allows people to use their experiences and knowledge of their communities to build coalitions of faith leaders, local businesses, and other neighbors who work together to find solutions that benefit everyone.

When you give to the CCHD collection, you make an impact nationally and at home, because 25% of your contribution stays within your own diocese. This way you help your own community build on this legacy of success while also helping communities across the country. Local grant recipients in our diocese include emergency assistance and food pantry supplies for St. Vincent De Paul chapters, vocational job training for adults with disabilities, and community outreach programming for at-risk youth and families. You can find more information on our local CCHD grants at <https://catechesis.diojoliet.org/cchd>.

Please prayerfully consider how you can help CCHD this year. If you would like more information about the national collection and the people it supports, visit www.usccb.org/cchd.

Thank you for joining us to work on the margins and break the cycle of poverty. With best wishes, I ask God to bless you always.

As I remain –

Sincerely yours in Christ,

St. Joseph's Corner

The Gospels stand apart from the rest of the Bible. While the whole of Scripture leads to and flows from Jesus Christ, the Gospels uniquely present His words, actions, and resurrection in time. The Gospels stand at the intersection between temporal and timeless realities: they recount real historical events, yet they also reveal eternal truth through the person of Christ.

The Church has always, and continues to, uphold the apostolic origin of the Gospels, providing witness to Christ's teaching and actions throughout His earthly life (Dei Verbum, §18). However, Scripture provides meaning beyond the immediate—meaning that is often not fully understood by the human author—a deeper, divine meaning that transcends time: the sensus plenior, the fuller sense.

As we examine Luke 21:5-19, we encounter an apocalyptic teaching from Jesus. It begins with awe over the temple's beauty and ends with a quiet promise of endurance: "By your perseverance you will secure your lives." But in between, Jesus speaks of the collapse of institutions, families, and even friendships. He names persecution, betrayal, famine, and fear. He warns of false voices and failed structures. In every sense, it's a portrait of a world unraveling.

Yet His purpose is not fear, but clarity.

It's tempting to read this passage exclusively as a sign of things to come, "out there." And yes, Jesus speaks prophetically of real events—the destruction of the temple in 70 C.E., and the tribulations that would follow. But if we did that, then the events described would have concluded—at least on the scale that impacted most Christians—with the Emperor Constantine, some 1,700 years ago. If we did that—focused only on the "out there"—we would miss the sensus plenior.

This is not only a passage about geopolitical collapse. It is also a revelation of interior truth. The temple, for all its splendor, had become hollow. Its beauty masked its brittleness. And so, Jesus begins by dismantling not only their expectations, but their attachments.

He shifts their gaze: "See all these things...Not one stone will be left upon another."

It's a sobering wake-up call, not just for the disciples, but for all of us. How often do we put our faith in outward things—structures we admire, routines we trust, institutions we revere? We busy ourselves with external threats, cultural decay, economic pressures, and the like. But Jesus directs our attention elsewhere—not to the chaos without, but to the battle within.

We see the wars, the betrayals, the famines, and the false prophets. We watch a world that feels like it's unraveling. But how often do we ask: What is unraveling in me?

Jesus does not call us to panic—He calls us to persevere. To bear truthful witness, not to give in to fear. To choose endurance over escape. He invites us to confront not only the false prophets around us, but the ones within—the voices of pride, comfort, despair, and distraction that quietly lead us astray.

Yes, the world may reject those who refuse to worship its passing powers. But even more pressing is the need to reject the enemy within—the subtle persecution of the soul that comes when we neglect the life of grace.

Dear brothers, the world may shake—but your soul must not. Tend the temple within. Lead your family not with fear, but with faith. Persevere. Witness. Endure. For true hope has only one Source, and our life is meant to serve only one Master.
