Bearing the Cross, Seeking Christ's Peace

Dear Parishioners,

Soon, our nation will mark a somber milestone with the 25th anniversary of the terrorist attacks of September 11th. For many of us, the memory remains vivid. We remember where we were; we recall the horrible images on our screens; and we mourn thousands of men, women, and children who perished in the World Trade Center, the Pentagon, and in Pennsylvania. This date, 9-11, carries a heavy burden of memory.

As we navigate this day amidst media coverage and observances, as people of faith, we are called to prayer. During that tumultuous time, and still today, we long for peace. A true peace that only Christ can give.

In this week's Gospel, Jesus lays out the cost of discipleship: "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it."

To the secular world, "losing one's life" is difficult to comprehend. But to those who follow Christ, it is the highest expression of love. On September 11, we witnessed this Gospel in action. The first responders did not pause to think about their safety. They took up the heavy cross of public service, denying themselves, and running into the smoke and chaos to save strangers. In their sacrifice, we saw the light of Christ shining through the darkest dust.

To honor this heroic legacy, Our Mother of Good Counsel will hold a special commemorative Mass on Saturday, September 12, at the 4:00 pm Mass. During this liturgy, we will remember the lives lost, pray for healing for their families, and ask God to protect those who continue to serve us today.

We invite all active and retired Police, Fire, Paramedic, Military, Medical, and EMA personnel to join us in uniform. After the Mass, we invite everyone to gather for refreshments as we express our gratitude to these local heroes.

Let us hold the memory of 9/11 in our hearts, not with anger or fear, but with a renewed commitment to be instruments of peace. Let us pray that we have the courage to take up our daily crosses in service of our neighbors.

In Christ's Peace,

Fr. Greg
Pastor

Drodzy Parafianie,

Wkrótce nasz naród będzie obchodził smutną, 25. rocznicę tragicznych ataków terrorystycznych z 11 września. Dla wielu z nas wspomnienia tamtego dnia wciąż pozostają bardzo żywe. Pamiętamy, gdzie wtedy byliśmy; pamiętamy przerażające obrazy, które oglądaliśmy na ekranach; i oplakujemy tysiące kobiet, mężczyzn i dzieci, którzy stracili życie w World Trade Center, Pentagonie oraz w Pensylwanii. Data 11 września niesie ze sobą ciężar bolesnych wspomnień.

Przeżywając ten dzień pośród relacji medialnych i uroczystości upamiętniających, jako ludzie wiary jesteśmy wezwani do modlitwy. Zarówno w tamtym burzliwym czasie, jak i dzisiaj, pragniemy pokoju — prawdziwego pokoju, który może dać nam jedynie Chrystus.

W Ewangelii tego tygodnia Jezus ukazuje nam, na czym polega droga i cena uczniostwa:

"Jeśli kto chce pójść za Mną, niech się zaprze samego siebie, niech weźmie swój krzyż i niech Mnie naśladuje. Bo kto chce zachować swoje życie, straci je; a kto straci swe życie z mego powodu, znajdzie je."

Dla współczesnego, świeckiego świata pojęcie „utrąty własnego życia” może być trudne do zrozumienia. Jednak dla tych, którzy idą za Chrystusem, jest ono najwyższym wyrazem miłości. 11 września byliśmy świadkami tego, jak słowa Ewangelii stały się rzeczywistością. Ratownicy i służby pierwszej pomocy nie zatrzymali się, aby myśleć o własnym bezpieczeństwie. Wzięli na siebie ciężki krzyż służby publicznej, zapierając się samych siebie i biegnąc w stronę dymu i chaosu, aby ratować obcych ludzi. W ich poświęceniu zobaczyliśmy światło Chrystusa jaśniejące pośród najciemniejszego pyłu.

Aby uczcić pamięć tych bohaterów, Parafia Matki Bożej Dobrej Rady odprawi specjalną Mszę Świętą upamiętniającą tę rocznicę w sobotę, 12 września, o godzinie 4:00 po południu. Podczas tej liturgii będziemy wspominać tych, którzy stracili życie, modlić się o pokój i pocieszenie dla ich rodzin oraz prosić Boga o opiekę nad wszystkimi, którzy również dzisiaj służą i chronią naszą społeczność.

Zapraszamy wszystkich czynnych oraz emerytowanych funkcjonariuszy Policji, Straży Pożarnej, Ratowników Medycznych, Wojska, Służby Medycznej oraz EMA, aby dołączyli do nas w swoich mundurach.

Po Mszy Świętej zapraszamy wszystkich na poczęstunek, podczas którego będziemy mogli wyrazić naszą wdzięczność naszym lokalnym bohaterom.

Niech pamięć o 11 września pozostanie w naszych sercach nie jako źródło gniewu czy lęku, ale jako odnowione zobowiązanie, abyśmy byli narzędziami pokoju. Módlmy się, abyśmy mieli odwagę każdego dnia brać na siebie nasze krzyże i służyć naszym bliźnim.

W pokoju Chrystusa,

Ks. Grzegorz Podwysocki
Proboszcz

St. Joseph's Corner

Last week we heard Peter's confession—a proclamation that Jesus is the Christ: the Son of the Living God. Jesus's reply was very telling: "For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my heavenly Father" (Mt 16:17).

Peter certainly did not arrive at it merely through human reasoning; Jesus explicitly attributes the decisive recognition to revelation, and like many divine revelations, its fullness is revealed over time. This week, we learn how little Peter understood. When the implications of what it means to be the Christ are plainly revealed to him, he remains unable to believe it. Just seven verses after Jesus declares Peter blessed, Peter is called Satan.

Peter finds himself in a place very familiar to all of us. We are drawn to discipleship like "a fire burning in [our] heart, imprisoned in [our] bones" (Jer 20:9). But while the thirst is strong, flesh may prove weak.

Peter wants Christ without the Cross. Jesus makes it clear that Peter has not just misunderstood Jesus's vocation; he has misunderstood his own: "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me" (Mt 16:24).

It is one thing to recognize Christ. It is another to follow Him when He leads us somewhere we would never have chosen to go.

Jeremiah's words give us an insight into Peter's interior struggle as well as our own. God's word is costly to carry, yet impossible to suppress. This tension is at the heart of the call to discipleship. When we read the Gospel in isolation, discipleship seems untenable. How can we be tasked with carrying a Cross that we cannot carry?

The answer is simple. As with all things holy and pleasing to God, we cannot carry the Cross on our own; we were never meant to.

The real struggle is not carrying the Cross. It's knowing which Cross to carry. It's easy to answer the question, Do I want God? But it is much more difficult to answer, Do I want what God wants? Often, we find the answer is conditional: I want what God wants when it conforms to what I already want. But grace is found in carrying the Cross God permits us to carry—the Cross that draws us more deeply into the saving work of Christ. The burden becomes heavier when we insist on carrying one of our own making.

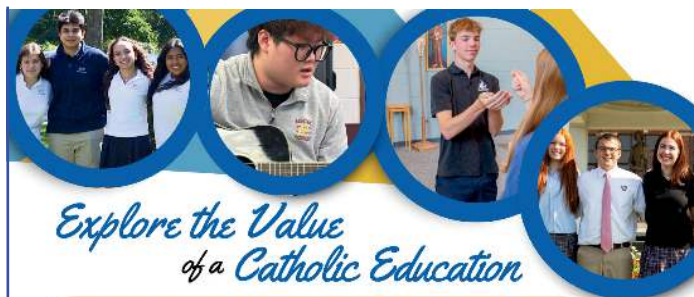

St. Paul gives us the prescription: to "offer our bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing to God" (Rom 12:1). Not to conform ourselves to this age but to discern God's will for our lives.

Peter was not rebuked because he lacked courage or conviction. He was rebuked because he failed to discern: "You are thinking not as God does, but as human beings do" (Mt 16:23). He knew who Christ was, but he had already decided what the Christ should be. His mistake was not refusing to follow Jesus; it was trying to determine where Jesus ought to lead.

Dear brothers, discernment begins when we stop asking God to bless the path we have already chosen and become willing to receive the path He offers. As husbands and fathers, it becomes all too easy to become fixed on the future we believe we must provide, protect, and control. We can convince ourselves that faithfulness means having the answer, fixing the problem, or carrying every burden ourselves. But discernment asks something harder: whether the path we are fighting to preserve is actually the one God is asking us to walk.

Remember, on the path Christ offers, the yoke is easy, and the burden is light—not because the suffering disappears, but because it is carried with Christ and according to His will, rather than under the weight of a path we have imposed on ourselves.
